

crocker and Robert Hitchins in Saint Stephen - are persons of Integrity and Ability, for the appointments, who would probably attend to the Duty - which perhaps might be neglected if committed to other Hands, not from any improper design but the interference with other business, especially as the appointments would not be compulsory on them - I had intended mentioning this Matter in my other Letter but it escaped me and I should have omitted it at this time, but for a Hint from Mr. Pagan who carries with him a petition for the appointments of Commissioners on the Estate of Benjamin Milliken -

With great Respects I continue
Dear Sir

Your faithful and obliged humble Servant
