

from the other servants. Indeed I would in all instances keep this boy as unconnected with the rest of 'em, as possible. - I am sure from repeated observation & experience that half the young servant lads are spoiled by the bitches of women in kitchens. - and for that reason I would keep a favorite boy as much out of their way as I could.

If I can come across a young Scotch-Girl, two or or three years older than him, I will purchase her - you may then dismiss the vagrant which you now have, and bring both up, to your mind. -

Frank - of course will have nothing to do with your Boy - and I would ^{not} permit the Boy to do or perform any kind of service out of doors. - I fear he is not sufficiently accomplished