

on Patty - it cannot do it any hurt, but will rather be of service by fitting it to the back, &c. - I have also by the same opportunity
 sent Wright's Medicines which I hope will suit
 him. I won't not attempt to send another Apron in a portmanteau
 to M^r Sinclair. That which I brought down
 notwithstanding all
 your

your precautions, was most amazingly tum-
 bled, and had not my good mother sprinkled it & smoothed it - The old maidens won, &
 not have readily received
 it. - M^r Pyles - has bro't me one pair of shoes - he fears they are too narrow, & he will not buy any more until you report whether these suit you. He
