

10.

What do you think of your young man Murray?
I wrote him a letter last evening. He has just been whispering in my ear that he wishes I would write another letter for him to his mamma - I told him I would tomorrow night.

"Ay says he - I don't want such an one as you wrote last night - I want one in a book - a whole book full such an one as you write. Why says I you pus.

11.

pus - What have you to say to fill a volume? -
"Get a book says he & I'll tell you - I have as much to say to Mamma as you have, and I love Mamma as well as you do. I'm hang'd if I don't" - upon my honor I'm often fur-ried to get rid of the fellow.

I must send him off as soon as I can, for the longer he stays the more sincerely & affectionately am I attached to him.

I