D.N.B. ARCHIVES

I have this moment received your acceptable letter by Major. Milledge - I instantly throw aside all business - & undertake the pleasing task of answering it - I am distressed my dearest wife at your indisposition - for your own sake I hope there is no foundation for your conjecture. I do not regret it so much on Madam's account. Dear - his time she was wearied.

One

One more I intreat you to give yourself no uneasiness about Murray. Those who left him last on board ship - Gordon & Thompson, particularly say he was the happiest of all mortals. - Why will you indulge yourself in such weakness? - Don't you

I shall send the Flannel by the very first opportunity. The shawl - & 4 P^r gloves for you I send by M. Campbell. I send Pop one pair of gloves, which I fear are too big - & one pair of mitts which I fear are too small but they are
