

22. them, you can let me know in season. The great business about shape must be soon settled, For my part I am determin^d. to think that you are mistaken. — It will disappoint me vastly for I intend to have a great deal of romping this winter.

I am rejoiced at the accounts you give me of your throat. I hope to hear that it is perfectly healed. I'm sure you have good hands — it must be so at indeed together

I shall be forever obliged to John Robinson for his attention to you. I hope your Macon is employed before this time. it will not take a great deal of time. — I will send my precious little Poppy some shoes, side saddle & every thing else she wants. Tell her I am sorry she is sick. Tell her from Love her dearly. —

Remember me to Mr. James of the family & to Wright, I insist on his curing your throat before I return.
