

24. I received Robinson's letter when I received yours - but Campbell is waiting -

Tell him that in addition to his pay as Muster Master I have 12 Guineas of his left by Morris, which with the other money shall be forwarded immediately.

I hope he has received the cash from the parson.

What a letter again!
Of these epistles - amuse my Mary - how amply am I compensated. -

Then

There is not a word of news since my last, & had not I exerted some old fashioned ingenuity to rake up an old story I should perhaps have been hurried to fill this volume. -

Adieu.

I shall write every day according to custom.
I am never so happy as when I am giving news proofs of my affection for you. And do you my
