Damn those cats —
 what a catmewing
 they make — of all discords in the world it's the worst — I ask pardon — except the Bagpipe — I'd forgot that — Hist!
 Stop it — stop it — an idea — an idea — I have it — no it isn't — it's a story never mind — it shall go

A poor fellow in London who didn't find it remarkably easy to earn his daily bread, made a collection of sixteen cats of different ages and sizes, which he placed in a kind of draw that had hollow sockets just fitting their tails, and shut it over with a case that had the appearance of an organ and had long perpendicular rods which
