

all owe her letters. The family are well. Miss Millar has made her appearance at the assembly — cut out the whole circle of Belles has become a reigning toast — and is allowed by your contemporaries in beauty to beat Miss Polly Prince all hollow.

Major Upham has had a return of his disorder and is now very low.

Rouballet exhibited very splendidly in his supper on the Queen's Ball he set out his table with eleven hams placed equidistant down the middle. To make variety he placed a fore quarter of mutton and a portion of beef between each, & twenty two turkeys were placed as wings to the hams. The other table was an exact counterpart of this
