

(which I know how highly you relish)
of having assisted a family which was once flattered with brighter prospects, and educated with different views. If you mean to send Polly
to school I don't know a better opportunity.

London / Chipman
Gardner goes up with the Major and I suppose will be just the kind of man you
wanted for a servant;
if he doesn't answer
let me know, and I will be on the look out for some one else.

Sister Sally and Miss Miller both go