Fisher-men.

are several German families, in a prosperous way. Next is Merliquet Bay, (an Indian name) in which is the township of Lunenburg well settled by a number of industrious Germans.

In Mahone Bay, Lahrave & Liverpool, several ships have been loaded for England with timber and boards.

Chester in this Bay is settled by a few New-England families & others.
From hence to Windsor is a road, the distance twenty five miles. +

County of Halifax, at large.

a few miles to the eastward of Halifax was granted to several gentlemen of that place, & others, who have tenants there, and along the coast in the several harbours, are some small settlements of Acadians who bring quantities of Fire-wood to Halifax.

Carro, forty leagues to the eastward of Halifax is a commodious place for carrying on Fishing as is the harbor of St. Peter at

at the west end of the island (Cape Breton). — There are a few settlements at Miramichi —

Richidaboucton, & Rustigouche, which are on the northeast coast of the province composed of Acadians, and some few Europeans who carry on a valuable Salmon fishery. — At Pictou there are a few Scotch families — and at Tatmagouche a few Germans. —

All these settlements have been repeatedly plundered by American Privateers, which prevents their increase.

There are in the province about one hundred Acadian families who have taken the oath of allegiance, some of which are settled on harbours to the eastward of Halifax, others on St. Mary's Bay and on the rivers Pitcodiac & Memremcoot near the Bay of Fundy, some at Annapolis, and some on the peninsula of Halifax and on the road to Port. Sackville.
