

equally bad. — Then a tract of Land, said to be a reserve for Major Studholme, of 4000 acres, which is a good piece of Land, consisting of upland and interval, but deficient in Wood and Timber. The Land above this is, in general, good, with a larger quantity of Wood upon it; the interval is about a mile deep, and continues (from the best information) about 13 miles. The River here lessens to a small brook not capable of navigation even for a birch Canoe. — All the other.

other Land between this and Pitcondiac (which enters into the Bay of Fundy by Fort Cumberland) is burnt and bad. The Islands in the River and Bay of Kennebecas are of little importance.

The Lands on the Southeast side of the Long Reach, which Shirlings were granted to Captain Walter Grant of } Shirling of the Navy, extend about 5 miles up the Long reach and is a very bad tract. There are no interval, tillage or meadow