called old mill creek, and proceeds about one mile up on a rough rocky shore without interval. Then comes to St. Ann's plain which is a spot of land cleared by the French, about 2 miles in extent. It is a piece of level high interval, which formerly contained a number of Houses &c; but there now remains only 3 families on it. From thence to the French Chappel is about 6 Miles, all good land, strips of interval & good upland. Back of St.
